"I have a lot more confidence as a senior. As a freshman I was really concerned with 'fitting in,' but when I finally realized that was virtually impossible, I decided to be my wierd self. That has made all the difference. I couldn't care less what people think of me now," said Sarah Peters, senior.

MOVING*IN*

◆ Janie Linkel
Academic Editor

As freshmen, we "move in" and become familiar with our classmates and surroundings. We "move on" by becoming varsity players and officers in clubs throughout our sophomore and junior years. But, as seniors, we "move out" into the real world of college and the work force.

For these reasons the staff decided to use these concepts in our annual capturing the essence of moving through high school. As you page through the book, you will notice three sections: "MOVING*IN*," "MOVING*ON*," and "MOVING*OUT*."

The 144 new faces brought back memories for many: the new challenges in academics, sports, and clubs we were exposed to our freshmen year.

With these challenges, we succeeded in life and it helps us move through the three steps in a students memorable high school years.

Although our freshmen year was full of challenges, it helped shape our personalities, our sense of humor, and our perseverance.

"I love the privileges that I have received since I have come to high school. I feel like I am treated like an adult ," said Renee Ziegler, freshman.

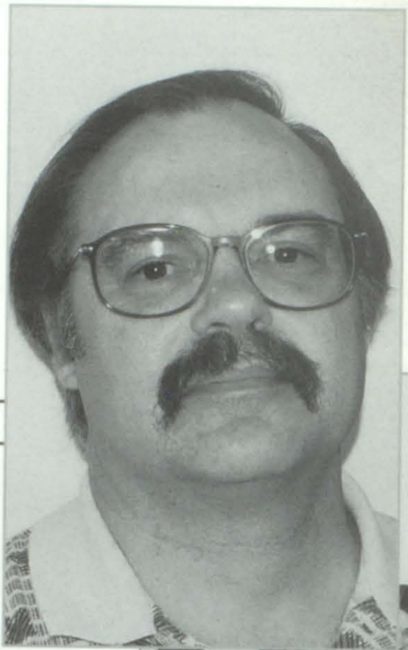
A Model to Follow

~Well respected teacher, Mr. Seright, explains Code Green.



> "I hope to less the panic and have a better chance of quick reaction in case of emergency with Code Green," stated Mr. John Seright.

By Jared Shane

Mr. John Seright, Chairman of the Safety Committee, designed a plan in place and to practice if an intruder ever came into our school: Code Green. Mr. Seright chose appointment to act as chairman by Principal Jim Roberts and happy to implement this position to make the school a safer place to learn.

"I hope to less the panic and have a better chance of quick reaction in case of emergency with Code Green," stated Seright.

"I feel that Code Green is a good plan and Mr. Seright has done a fabulous job on organizing Code Green," stated Adam Magee, senior.

A Strong Leader

~Nate Gunter explained how he advanced his education.

Senior Nate Gunter chose to take a step above others. Gunter enrolled in business trade which allowed him to achieve technical computer skills. He had hands on experience with Microsoft 2000 which familiarized Gunter with computer programs. This knowledge allows him to use for his own business one day. He worked towards a two-year certificate. Although Gunter was unsure of where he was going after graduation, he knew by using the business skills learned at the Career Center, he would be two years ahead of the rest of his class.

> "The Career Center allows me to study my interest," stated Nate Gunter, senior.

Striving for improvement.

~Mrs. Moore shares Continuous Improvement ideas.

One teacher who felt very strongly about continuous improvement was English teacher, Mrs. Marty Moore. Mrs. Moore used continuous improvement strategies for a couple years, and started using it partially because of her father.

"My dad used this systems approach during his years at NASA, and later in the private sector. He felt that it gave them a competitive edge in business. It's interesting to note that world class athletes such as Tiger Woods and Michael Jordan use continuous improvement. The CI process appeared to be a way to empower students," stated Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Moore, who used this daily, did techniques such as Plus /Delta's, PDSA (plan, do, study, act), and goal setting.

> "I think continuous improvement is a good idea because I can see how I am doing and see what I need to work on," stated Eric Neumeier, junior.

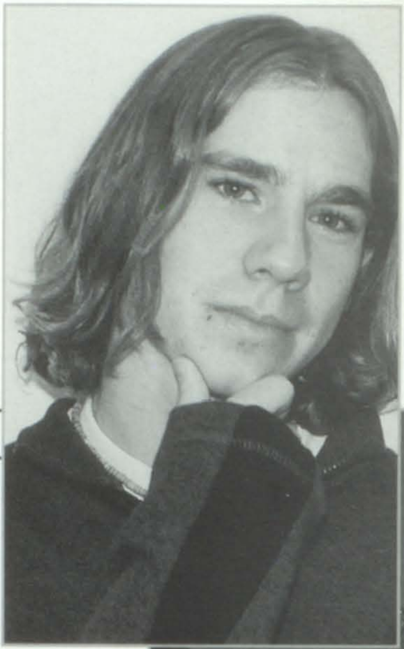
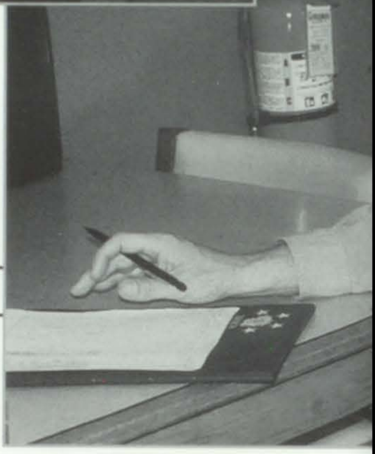
The Perfect Example

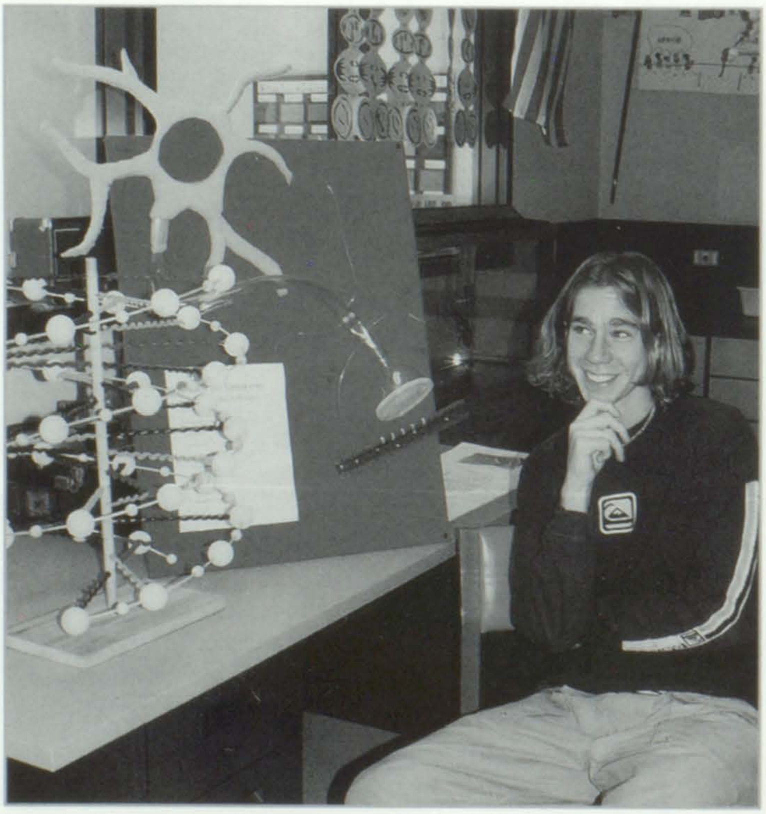
~Evan Krause explains the Multiple Intelligence Theory.





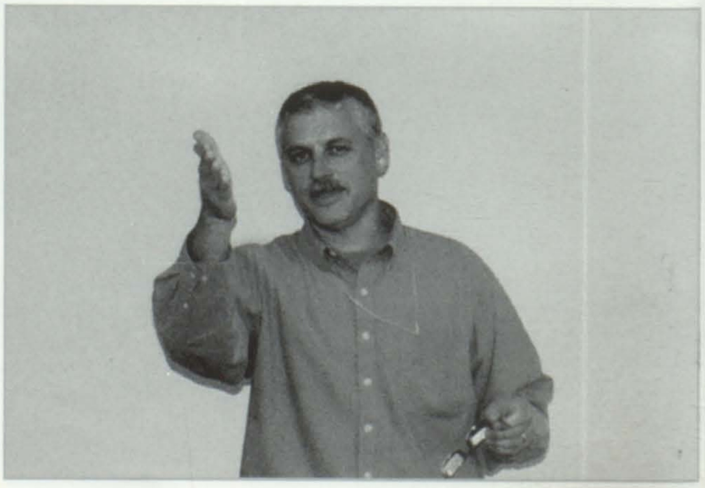
> " I feel I have been properly prepared for college after completing four of Mr. Zimmerman's classes. His teaching format and criteria for projects greatly enhanced my knowledge of the surrounding environment," said Evan Krause, senior.

Time management, creativity, and responsibility were all tools Evan Krause, senior learned from Mr. Charlie Zimmerman's classes. "Evan by his production has displayed tremendous talent. His products creatively display the concepts taught in class," said Mr. Charlie Zimmerman. Krause took four of Zimmerman's science courses: Biology, Ecology, Human Genetics, and Cellular/Molecular Biology. Krause found human genetics the most interesting. He felt the multiple intelligence theory helped him express himself and present his projects in his own creative way. "I have learned just as much, if not more, from Mr. Zimmerman's style of teaching than regular 'lecture then test' classes,' commented Krause.



Proudly displaying his projects, Evan Krause, senior, sits with his DNA model and Neuron Cell which was one of Mr. Zimmerman's favorites.

Telling a famous evolution story, Mr. Charlie Zimmerman provides his students with a new theory to ponder.



A Leader to Follow

~Therese Tepe gave herself a jump start.

Junior Therese Tepe advanced her education by being involved in the Animal Science class taught by Mr. Steve Shaw. Tepe worked toward an education in wildlife biology . "I want to go to places around the world and research exotic animals," stated Tepe.

Taking steps, Tepe planned her success. While in her junior year, she mentored at the Tri-County Vet, and witnessed many things, animals being opperated on and animals put to sleep. She has narrwed it down to three colleges , Maine, Wisconsin, or Colorado. " I am undecited in which college I will attend, it just depends on the amount of time they will devote to my education," stated Tepe.

A Chance of a Life Time

~Kristina Pittman's cultural journey to Mexico.

> "The purposes of AP Spanish and the IU Program are simply to learn to communicate better in Spanish," stated Kristina Pittman, senior.

By Christin Giltz

Senior Kristina Pittman, studied in San Luis Potosi, Mexico for seven weeks this past summer, through the IU Honors Program.

Spanish reamins important to Pittman because, "I enjoy having the ability to communicate in another language because it enables me to connect with an entirely different culture," stated Pittman.

Pittman enrolled in AP Spanish to refine and better her already "practically fluent" Spanish. Pittman expressed that AP Spanish helped her to retain her knowledge from her seven weeks in Mexico. Pittman continued tutorig Victor, a local Spanish speaker to increase both her English and Spanish abilities.

MOVING ON

◆ Lori Hirt
Sports Editor

During your sophomore and junior years of high school you are simply moving on; moving on through your years of high school, and for many, you may be starting to move on in life. As sophomores you have finally moved up from the pits of being a freshman, only to enter another form of meaninglessness. You begin to realize that you actually mean less then freshman now. You do not have the attention of being the new kids and you are not yet upperclassmen. You try to feel big and bad by picking on freshmen, but you realize that this was you not long ago, so you really do not have the right. However, there has to be some reason for your existence or we would get rid of the class all together. One good point is that you finally know your way around and feel more comfortable at school. You also realize that you have finished those lovely mandatory classes you have to take as freshman, even though you still have several more in the years to come. You also begin entering true adolescence. Your maturity level, hopefully, finally increases and you can finally receive the biggest pass to freedom ever, your license.

As juniors you are truly moving on. You have inherited the reins of being an upperclassmen, but you are not nearly ready to be moving out like the seniors. For many, this will be the hardest, yet most memorable time of your life. You get to attend senior parties and maybe even have your own decent ones. You begin making and holding on to the friends that you will most likely have for the rest of your life and you get to relax and enjoy your life as you watch all of the seniors stress, knowing that you still have one whole year left before you have to do all of that. You also are finally out of gym and health, which don't get me wrong I liked both of those classes, but it got really old running, stretching, and then smelling for the rest of the day. However, all of these good things must come with a cost and for many of you, your new classes are punishment enough. Several students will begin taking advanced classes including the dreadful, but extremely helpful, CPE 11.

Although moving on as sophomores and juniors was not all that glamorous it was a necessary part of your life and development. Take advantage of the time you have, because these really are the times of your life. Everything you do, and everyone you will meet during this period of your life will truly make you who you are as a person. You may think that you are ready to keep moving right on out of this place, but when your senior year comes around you wish you were moving a lot slower. So, enjoy the time you have and be thankful that you are not the ones moving out, yet.

BACCALAUREATE CEREMONY

"Baccalaureate" is a worship service that celebrates the accomplishments of the graduating class, lifts thanksgiving and praise for God's guidance and blessing through the years of education, and that gives some guidance for the graduates as they move on into a new stage of life. Above all, Baccalaureate is a recognition and celebration of God's presence and work in our lives, and an acknowledgment of the One in Whom we "live and move and have our being." (Acts 17:28).

Congratulations Bill!
We are very proud of you.
Love you lots!
Mom and Dad

To Brandon and Casey,
My children, my life, bright eyed, energenic boys, running, always exploring...Today is yesterday, peaceful, happy, cheerful memories...Deep in thought, dreaming, thinking, exploring again... Life and it's offerings...set before you, all yours. Today is tomorrow. You will make the world a better place. The best is yet to come... God keep you safe...I love you...My children, my life.
Mom

Fred,
We always knew your future was so bright you had to wear shades!
Congratulations,
Mom, Dad,
Matt and Jackie

Jeff,
As you travel down the many crossroads of life, only you can determine your path!
We love you very much,
Congradulations!!!
Love, Mom, Jeff and Jennifer

To Daniel,
"You see, you can't just wait until the stars are in their right orbit to make your move in life,---oh we can fool ourselves and say we'll wait till these things are right but, believe me, they can outwait us. We can negotiate but they'll outnegotiate us."
Trinity
Love, Mom and Dad

-Danny to Dan-
Such a child.
Such a young man.
Share with the world.
Love, Mom and Dad

Sasha,
You are more than we could have ever imagined. We are proud of you and wish you much happiness. Thanks for all the love, hugs and laughter.
Love you lots,
Mom and Dennis

Emi,
Eleanor Roosevelt said: "The future belongs to the those who believe in the beauty of their dreams." Dream big and accomplish great things, remember where you came from and who answers your prayers.
Love, Mom and Dad

Kristin Boo-Head,
You constantly delight us with your talents and achievements. You've got what it takes to succeed.

We love our little ballet star!

Love,
Your Family

Megan and Lacey,
You two are sometimes chaos times two. Yin and Yang. Yet you never cease to amaze us with what wonderful people you have become. We are proud of both of you. The future is yours. Embrace it!
Love,
Mom and Dad

Congrats Josh-
Wishing you all the very best for you and your new road ahead!
Your biggest fans-
Love-Dad, Mom, Luke, and Grandma

GRADUATION

Class of 2001

NOT YET, RENIA! Getting a little eager to throw her cap, Renia Ydstie tries to be patient as her friend Lacy Hoyer adjusts it for her.

FINALLY! Finding it hard to believe that soon their high school careers will be over, Class President Willis Van Dusen and Ryan Holmstedt reflect on their good times in their last few moments as classmates.

HONOR
2001
HONOR
2001
2001

WE'VE COME A LONG, LONG WAY TOGETHER! Through the hard times and the good: Renia Ydstie, Lacey Hoyer and Mandy Tanguay stuck it through and have many accomplishments and big smiles to show for it.

TRUE FRIENDS STICK TOGETHER. Never before has this statement been so accurate. Celebrating their success, the Senior Class of 2001 follow AHS tradition and get rowdy with the silly string.

GRADUATION

AS WE GO ON, WE REMEMBER..Linking arms for one last time as students at AHS, Michelle Walker, Cassie Takko, Andrea Kustura, Andrea Hubbard, Jennifer Sakrison and Nicole Dustin know that they will always have the memories they've shared as friends.
